Scioto Farms District Involved In Debate Between Officials

AMOUNTS LISTED

Federal Office Holds Up Money Due For Schools, Others

Contending that the Scioto Farms Rural Resettlement Project that covers more than 3,500 acres of Pickaway County land is not a public undertaking but a private one and is therefore subject to taxation, County Auditor Forrest Short is contesting efforts of government officials to have the land stricken from the tax duplicate.

The auditor is being supported by several other county officials and by citizens to whom he has explained his campaign to prevent what he believes would mean the loss of all revenue from taxation from the land that is located in seven of the county's 15 townships. The land already split up into individual farming units and sold on long-term notes to farmers includes 2,089.54 acres in Deercreek, Perry, Jackson and Wayne Townships, while 1,479.74 additional acres have been purchased in the last two months in Jackson, Monroe, Wayne and Deercreek Townships. None of the 1,479.74 acres has been divided into farming units yet, but it is believed that the government is ready at almost any time to announce enlargement of the Scioto Farms district to include this area.

Revenue Would End
Auditor Short's belief is that if he asks the Ohio Tax Commission to remove the Scioto Farms land from the duplicate that all revenue from Washington to help conduct the governments of the various townships, the schools in each township and to help carry the load of the county government will cease.

"In that case," the auditor said, "the money required to conduct the business of our county will have to come from some other source, and that means new taxes. I want to prevent this if I possibly can."

At the present time there is due the county and the townships in which the Scioto Farms properties are located $3,240.94 in delinquent taxes on the 2,089.54 acres purchased in the original Resettlement district.

"Money Can't Be Paid"
The government has informed Auditor Short and has written to school board clerks and township trustee's clerks that this delinquency cannot be paid until the auditor asks the Tax Commission to have the property declared tax-free. (Continued on Page Three)

CHIEF OF NAVY ASKS EXPANSION

Edison Says Uncle Sam Must Show Others That He Is Prepared

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30—Secretary of the Navy Charles Edison today told the house naval affairs committee that the navy needs a $1,300,000,000 expansion program and declared the United States must serve notice on "all possible aggressor nations" that she is ready to fight.

He vigorously opposed any reduction in the program and called for a navy able to resist a coalition and crush any enemy. He urged building of warships with all possible speed.

"War is not a sporting event," said Edison. "Its aim is to crush the enemy quickly and with minimum loss to ourselves. So I believe in providing crushing weapons with our wealth to protect our wealth."

Edison urged abandonment of laws restricting size of navy ships to former treaty limits. He said: "Whatever may later be asked or said of super ships, and bigger cruisers and bigger destroyers, the foregoing should be kept in mind as the governing principle. Do not mistake me. I am stating a principle to be followed in the design and construction of our ships." (Continued on Page Three)

HITLER TO TALK AT PARTY RALLY ON ANNIVERSARY

BERLIN, Jan. 30—Chancellor Hitler will deliver a radio broadcast today before a Nazi party rally at the Sportsplatz, held to celebrate the seventh anniversary of Hitler's appointment as chancellor.

In his speech, scheduled to be broadcast throughout the nation, the Fuehrer is expected to reply to recent speeches by Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain, Winston Churchill and Premier Edouard Daladier, and reiterate his intention to pursue the war to victory.

In other respects, Hitler will spend his day as usual except to receive Nazi party and government officials at the chancellery.

Berlin was jubilant over published reports of German air force successes in raids off the British coast yesterday.

"It was just a small test to give Churchill something to talk about," a spokesman said.

TAX RETURN DATE NEAR

COLUMBUS, Jan. 30—Tomorrow will be the last day for filing sales tax returns for the last half of 1939. R. P. Bartholow, chief of the state sales tax division, said today, Bartholow said no general extension of time will be granted, and pointed out that the sales tax law fixes a penalty of one dollar for each day returns are delinquent.

MEN of the American City of Flint show how they feel about Germany as they salute a Nazi banner. It was under this flag that the City of Flint was sailed to Russia after capture by a German sea raider in the North Atlantic. Later the Nazis tried to take the ship to Germany. It was seized by Norway and given back to the American crew. After a 113-day odyssey the Flint returned to Baltimore, where sailors are pictured.

UMW TO BALLOT ON RESOLUTIONS

Owens Says Convention To Be 100 Percent Behind Lewis Against F. D.

COLUMBUS, Jan. 30—John Owens, district No. 6 president, predicted today that the United Mine Workers convention would support President John L. Lewis "100 percent" in his rift with President Roosevelt and the New Deal.

At the same time, P. T. Fagan, of Pittsburgh, chairman of the UMW resolutions committee, said he was ready to submit a proposal to the convention that would place the UMW on record as approving Lewis' action in assailing the Democratic administration for "breaking faith with labor."

Owens, secretary of the committee, was to read the proposal, which was to be offered as a substitute for 47 resolutions previously submitted by local unions from nine states urging a third term for Roosevelt.

Some opposition was anticipated, however, on the substitute resolution in view of the fact that Lewis reportedly received 20 telegrams from locals in the last few days advising him to "lay off" criticizing Roosevelt. One local even demanded that the CIO chief "apologize" to the President.

The resolution, when offered (Continued on Page Three)

JAPS TO DEMAND THAT 21 GERMAN SEAMEN RETURN

TOKYO, Jan. 30—Tokyo will demand return of 21 German seamen seized from the Japanese liner Asama Maru by a British cruiser in the Pacific Ocean, a spokesman of the Tokyo foreign office declared today.

The spokesman's disclosure was made after Japanese Foreign Minister Hachiro Arita received British Ambassador Sir Robert Craigie for a full discussion of the Asama Maru incident, which has caused widespread anti-British sentiment throughout Japan.

The spokesman stated that Arita and Sir Robert conferred at the latter's request between 4 and 6:30 p. m.

"They discussed the Asama Maru case from every angle," the spokesman stated.

"Foreign Minister Arita maintained that return of the 21 Germans is essential.

"There will be further discussion tomorrow. Japan is preparing a considered reply to the British note."

Bricker Calls President "Arrogant Bureaucrat" In Washington Address

Governor Addresses Ohio Society Concerning F. D.'s Refusal to Approve Payment of Pension Funds

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30—Ohio's governor, John W. Bricker, a possible G.O.P. "dark horse" presidential nominee, completed a whirlwind visit to the capital today after severely criticizing President Roosevelt but wishing him "a happy birthday—and many of them."

Bricker accused the President of "playing politics" with old age pension money. He said American institutions were threatened when an "arrogant bureaucrat will use his temporary control over other people's money to satisfy a personal whim or serve a narrow partisan political purpose." He said Ohio would "go to court" to seek the Social Security funds withheld from it by the federal government.

Bricker made his charges before the Ohio Society of Washington's annual dinner. Senator Robert Taft of Ohio, an avowed G.O.P. presidential candidate, introduced him. During the day he was entertained at a reception in the Taft home, conferred with a number of Ohio members of congress and held a press conference.

The evident friendship between Bricker and Taft during the visit gave renewed strength to reports that they have an understanding to the effect that if Taft is unsuccessful in securing the Republican presidential nomination, he will throw his strength to Bricker. The governor said he would vote for Taft at the national convention.

F. D. SCHEDULES TWO MESSAGES ON ANNIVERSARY

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30—A little grayer and with the lines of the years more deeply etched on his face, President Roosevelt reached his 58th birthday anniversary today.

Despite these inevitable milestones of age, Mr. Roosevelt presented a picture of robust health to the nearly two-score guests who gathered at the White House during the day.

"Fit as a fiddle," was the verdict of Presidential Physician Dr. Ross McIntire after a general check-up of the chief executive.

For the most part, the President devoted the day to his guests and family, but members of his staff stood by for any important business that necessitates immediate White House attention.

Mr. Roosevelt expected to send two messages during the day—one to congress suggesting a $10,000,000 program for construction of small hospitals, and another to the hundreds of presidential birthday balls that are being held to raise funds for the anti-infantile paralysis campaign.

The President will deliver a nationwide broadcast address to the various dancing parties at 11:30 tonight.

RUSSIANS BAR AMERICAN RED CROSS IN POLAND

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30—Soviet Russia has refused to allow the American Red Cross to provide relief for the people in Russian-occupied Poland, Secretary of State Hull informed the house foreign affairs committee today.

In a letter to the committee, Hull said the Red Cross has been allowed to help those in German-occupied Poland but only if they cooperate with the German Red Cross.

EGYPTIAN'S WIFE GIVES BIRTH TO QUINTUPLETS

LONDON, Jan. 30—A Reuters dispatch from Cairo said today that the Egyptian wife of Sayed Hamada Geheza gave birth to quintuplets—like Canada's famous quintuplets, all girls.

The dispatch said the mother and five babies are all in good health.

OHIO PEACH CROP BELOW NORMAL; WEATHER CITED

COLUMBUS, Jan. 30—Ohio's 1940 peach crop will be almost 75 percent below normal because of damage done by the severe cold spell, Ohio State University horticulturists estimated today.

Reports to the university revealed that about a 50 percent loss would be realized in the Ash-tabula area and approximately 75 percent in the Port Clinton and other peach producing areas along Lake Erie.

Farther south, growers reported their 1940 crop would be almost a complete loss.

The Buckeye state annually produces an average crop of 1,000,000 bushels. It varies, OSU horticulturists pointed out, from 200,000 bushels in a "freeze-year" to 2,000,000 bushels in a good season.

"Whenever the temperature gets down to 12 below," said Frank Beach, head of the horticulture department, "the dormant peach blossoms are damaged. However, the exact loss cannot be estimated because it does not take a full tree of blossoms to produce a normal crop."

Damage to other fruits by the abnormal cold weather was negligible, Beach said.

State Agriculture department experts said winter wheat had been aided instead of hurt by the cold wave as snow has been on the ground during most of the month.

FINNISH RAIDERS VISIT UNNAMED SOVIET HARBOR

LONDON, Jan. 30—Finnish air raids on a "certain Soviet harbor" and on railway stations behind the Russian lines were reported in a Helsinki dispatch to the London Evening Standard today. The harbor was reported to have been the important Russian naval base of Kronstadt.

Russian airmen attempted to attack Viborg on the Karelian Isthmus, the dispatch said, but apparently were beaten off.

BRITAIN SCENTS GERMAN EFFORT TO STARVE ISLE

Report To Pope Concerning Polish Outrages Brings Reply From Berlin

LONDON, Jan. 30—For the second day in succession, Nazi war planes raced along the coasts of England and Scotland today in a series of attacks on allied and neutral shipping in British waters.

Flushed by the successes of yesterday, when at least 14 vessels were bombed or machine-gunned from the air, the German planes raided ships over a widespread area. The air ministry announced:

"The enemy is repeating the widespread attacks on East Coast shipping which they undertook yesterday."

By International News Service. What London experts regarded as the prelude to a supreme German effort to starve Britain into submission was hailed by Germany today as a new aerial victory as the Reich observed the seventh anniversary of Chancellor Hitler's rise to governmental power.

The Berlin communique claimed that two British naval patrol ships and seven armed merchant vessels were "destroyed" in yesterday's aerial bombing attack off the East Coast of England, extending from the Shetland Islands to the shores of Kent.

In addition, Berlin said, one British pursuit plane which rose to meet the German attack was shot down.

London's announcement did not corroborate all details of the Berlin claims. The British statement admitted that British and neutral vessels had been damaged by the German air raiders, but did not say any had been sunk. It added that the German raiders had been beaten off "at many points."

One British plane was struck by German machine gun bullets without suffering serious damage, London added.

In the opinion of official circles in London, the brunt of the German offensive to starve England will be borne by German planes and submarines.

To Cancel Leaves

These quarters said the British high command has perfected all details of its program to repel the anticipated Nazi offensive, and pointed to cancellation of Royal Air Force leaves in France as a move in this direction.

At the same time, they expressed (Continued on Page Three)

COUNT TO HAVE HIS DAY; CASSINI TO TELL ON WIFE

NEW YORK, Jan. 30—It was Count Oleg Cassini's turn on the witness stand today and he was hoping to spring some surprises on his wife, Merry Fahrney, the patent medicine heiress who wants a divorce.

The Russian born count will give the names of six men who, he claims, enjoyed his wife's affections between January and May of last year, according to his attorney.

Count Cassini will also make an unusual defense to the claims of his wife that she observed him through a small peep-sight in a hotel door indulging in a romance with a Broadway show girl, it was further revealed.

The count will maintain, his lawyer said, that such a scene never took place but that if it had, it would have been with the connivance of Merry. She said on the stand she rented two rooms for the count, who is her fourth husband, and rented a third one adjoining without his knowledge.

STATE TO SEEK COURT DECISION ON PENSION FUND

COLUMBUS, Jan. 30 — The United States Supreme Court will be asked to compel the federal government to pay to the state of Ohio $1,385,000 withheld from old age pension funds in October, 1938, Attorney General Thomas J. Herbert indicated today.

President Roosevelt last week vetoed the Jenkins Bill passed by congress which would have reimbursed the state treasury for the amount of the claim.

The attorney general said the state is preparing the "groundwork" for an appeal to the nation's highest court. The state will base its case on two contentions:

First, that there was always substantial compliance on the part of the state with the social security Board's requirements, and second, that the social security act did not contemplate a complete forfeiture of federal contributions, but only a withholding of the contributions until the state, which administrators aid for the aged, complied with the orders of the board.

The funds were withheld during a controversy between former Gov. Martin L. Davey and the Board. The Board charged that Davey was using old age administration "for political purposes."

At the same time, Prosecutor Wilmer D. Rekweg revealed he was holding Sylvester Wisda, 21, of Sherwood, O., as an alleged accomplice of Straka's. Wisda was indicted late yesterday afternoon on three counts of kidnaping by the Paulding County grand jury.

MASTER FARMER DESIGNATION ON MEETING PLANS

COLUMBUS, Jan. 30 — Presentation of the Master Farmers of Ohio was to highlight today's sessions of Farmers' Week at Ohio State University, which has established an opening day attendance record with an official registration of 2,617 visitors.

The farmers cheered when Dr. Mordecai Ezekiel, economic advisor to the secretary of agriculture, asserted that 50 percent more production is needed this year if the eight or nine million jobsless are to be put back to work.

"Scarcity isn't on the farm," he declared. "Scarcity is somewhere in the city."

He proposed higher income taxes as a means of securing more equitable distribution of wealth.

For the second straight year, Frank Coe, Fayette County farmer, was named Ohio's outstanding corn grower.

Livestock discussions, legislative problems affecting the farmer, Federated Farm Women's Clubs business meeting, social events and Grange and Farm Bureau meetings were on today's program.

SCOTT AND PARKER

Bing Crosby will roll out the well-worn reception carpet in the old Music Hall to receive Randolph Scott, Jean Parker, both of the films, and the noted cellist Gaspar Casado on Thursday.

The other hosts of the program over the NBC red network at 10 p. m. are Bob Burns, the irrepressible Arkansian, the Music Mals and John Scott Trotter's orchestra.

Randolph Scott will slip into the language of the open spaces he employed in the westerns that gave him his picture start, when he chats with Bob Burns. Jean Parker, the ideal ingenue, may be persuaded to try a song with King Croon Crosby.

The cellist Gaspar Casado, a Spaniard by birth, first attained prominence in his field by being the only man to play the instrument with a metal bow.

Bing sings, "Circibirin." "Just One More Chance." "I Thought About You." "Tumblin' Tumbleweed." and will reach into the musical past to come up with "Love's Old Sweet Song" as his 1832 memory number.

New Hit Comes to Cliftona Screen

MARGARET SULLIVAN and James Stewart are happily reunited for the third time in "The Shop Around the Corner," which opens next Wednesday at the Cliftona Theatre. They first appeared together in "Next Time We Love," the picture that started Stewart on his way to stardom, and later in "Shopworn Angel." Now their third teaming gives Miss Sullivan her finest dramatic acting opportunity since "Three Comrades" as Klara Novak, new girl in Matuschek's leather goods and novelty shop, employed "over the head" of the chief clerk, Alfred Krallik.

June Travis does a guest shot on the Anson Weeks "Lovely Lady" show on February 4. Jack Fulton is featured singer on this CBS stanza.

Ginny Simms, Kay Kyser's vocalist, is starred in her own recording of "The Starlit Hour," 1940 hit by the Parrish-De Rose team that wrote 1939's smash, "Deep Purple."

Despite the worst rainstorm to hit Bridgeport, Conn., this season, Teddy Powell and his orchestra, playing a one-nighter at the Ritz Ballroom, drew a capacity crowd. Powell's sweet music and swing band is one of the most popular in the New England barnstorming territory.

Frank Black turns to Gilbert and Sullivan and offers a special melody from their "Gondoliers" on his Friday night concert program over the NBC-Red network February 9. Selections are "List and Learn," "For the Merriest of Fellows Are We," "When a Merry Maiden Marries," "Duke of Plaza Toro," "Then Go Away," "There Was a Time," "With Duca Pomp," "Take a Pair of Sparkling Eyes" and "We're Called Gondoliers."

Examinations for jobs at the water plant will be held shortly since all positions are to be filled from Civil Service lists. Several names have been received already as applicants for positions. Frank Sheehan, who resigned recently from a $7,200 position as Portsmouth's City Manager, is among the applicants. At one time he had charge of the Portsmouth water works system.

The first consignment of baby chicks is due now most any day over at the grain elevator experiment farm, so one of the bosses over there told us. And the local Walter Hedges' Leghorn poultry farm is getting everything ready for the early spring trade. Thousands are produced there each year.

The ladies of the Lutheran Church served 485 meals during the Farmer's Institute last Wednesday and Thursday, 270 Wednesday and 215 Thursday. The meat served was 33 chickens and 75 pounds of beef. Every few days a picture show man of some sort, promoter or otherwise, appears on the scene making a survey of all the possible locations. Another was here last week and giving everything the once over said he'd be "back again sometime." But "one of these days" that long talked of building and show will be a reality made so by our own home people.

"Wintering fine" is the word coming direct from the homes of Philip Teegardin, Columbus, and Monroe Dunnick, Lancaster, both widely known here. Last week, the 24th to be exact, Mr. Dunnick celebrated at his home in a quiet way his 86th birthday but only a youngster yet compared to his friend Teegardin who in July next will have reached his 92nd birthday. And a month later, August 22, Jerome Peters, St. Paul, will be celebrating his 92nd birthday.

exempt. In that case, the government contends that it will make payments to the various districts in lieu of taxes totalling the amounts due to each. "None of this delinquency has been paid," the auditor declares, "and letters sent to the various officials insist that it cannot be paid until I take the action the government demands. Why, then, did the government last May pay $1,152.37 in taxes due to the county and the various townships on the 1937 collection if it cannot pay until the land has been removed from the tax duplicate?"

In May, 1939, the government sent direct to the township trustees and the school boards and to the county fund $1,152.37 due on 1937 tax. Of this amount $566.14 went into the county treasury and $1,186.23 was sent to the various townships and schools.

Auditor Short said that one government official, whose name he did not recall, had appeared in his office on two occasions to ask him to request that the land be removed from the tax duplicate.

"Who Would Burden?"

"I insist," Auditor Short declared, "that this land is not being used publicly, but has been sold to individual farmers and is now a private undertaking. Instead of a public one. The statutes read that land owned by the government and used for public purposes is tax-exempt, but no one has proven to me that this land is public. I claim it is owned privately now and therefore should be forced to pay its share of the county's tax load. If this property, now totalling 3,569.42 acres, is taken off the duplicate other districts of the county will be asked to bear the burden, and I don't believe this is fair."

If the government continues to withhold money due for the land, Perry Township will suffer most, the auditor said, because 1,562.16 acres of that township are included in the Scioto Farms district. The office of Chester B. Alspaugh, community manager of the Scioto Farms project, is located in Atlanta, Perry Township.

The auditor in disclosing that the delinquency for 1938 from the Resettlement land totals $3,240.94 said that Perry Township had 1,562.16 acres valued at $128,180 with a delinquency of $1,740.92; Deer Creek had 227.45 acres worth $25,360 and delinquency, $276.18; Jackson, 255.11 acres, value $23,480, delinquency, $343.52; and Wayne, 846.82 acres, value $70,890, delinquency $873.32. The most recent purchases totalling 1,479.74 acres is not broken down into townships because that property is not yet delinquent, the purchases having been completed only in the last month or two.

No Assurance Gained

"Although the government has asked that the land be declared tax-exempt," Mr. Short continued, "there is no assurance in any correspondence that I have had or in any conversation that I have had that the United States will see that the loss from taxation can be overcome without additional taxes on other districts. This is what I am trying to escape."

dent's veto of a bill authorizing payment of the Social Security funds withheld by the government, "would live to regret it." He told them the Social Security board refused "in a most arbitrary and insolent manner" to hand over to Ohio its "just" social security funds.

The $1,300,000 funds withheld in October, 1938, rightfully belonged to the state, said Bricker. He added:

"In October (1938) the federal contributions were withheld as a political punishment and without any regard for the needy people in Ohio. Bureaucracy had to be served and the greed for power had to be satisfied."

Bricker said congress "practically unanimously" passed the bill granting Ohio the funds, and extended thanks to the Federal Security administrator because he "did all in his power to help."

Then came the President's veto, and of this Bricker said: "We can stand the loss of the $1,300,000. Ohio taxpayers will make it up. But, we cannot stand the continuance or spread of such a practice without destroying the states and rendering them mere provinces of a Washington bureaucracy, costly, cumbersome and out of touch with the people back home."

President Roosevelt and the New Deal were responsible for the relief crisis in Ohio, Bricker declared. The state administration, he said, repaired the damage in old-age pension administration caused earlier by a Democratic state administration in Ohio, and sought its "just funds." That, he said, was what the New Deal refused.

ed suspicion that spies are sending information on British meteorological conditions to Germany from secret radio stations hidden in remote highlands and moors.

As an aftermath of publication of charges, contained in a report to Pope Pius XII, of German persecution in sections of Poland now occupied by the Reich, the Italian newspaper Avvenire cast doubt on denials of the charges from Berlin.

"We should like to believe that the German denial corresponds with the truth," the paper said.

"But where the Nazi fight against the Catholic Church is concerned, we know what official declarations mean only too well to give words their ordinary significance. Catholics will prefer... the direct evidence of Polish Catholics."

Germans Lodge Protest

At the same time German authorities in Berlin confirmed that a protest had been lodged with the Holy See against Vatican radio broadcasts detailing charges of alleged German persecution in German-occupied Poland.

Arthur Greiser, governor of Posen, announced that the vicar of Posen cathedral had been executed shortly after the German occupation on the charge of urging members of his parish to shoot Germans.

Warfare in Finland also took largely to the air, with more than 100 reported killed and between 250 and 300 wounded in violent Soviet air raids over the southern section of the country. Twenty-three persons were killed when a field hospital was bombed by Red aircraft in the Karelian Isthmus.

The Finnish high command said the battle north of Lake Ladoga was swinging in favor of the Finns and that at least 1,250 Russians were killed in two battles on that front.

ers to exhort the Russian soldiers to "come over and surrender and get food in plenty."

Russian officers ordered their men into dugouts, which were tightly shut, the moment the Finnish verbal barrage began.

But they were unable to prevent a number of Russians from taking the Finns at their word, crossing the no man's land and surrendering.

As they entered the Finnish lines, the Russian soldiers looked about them hungrily and muttered: "And now, food!"

During the aerial bombardments yesterday, Abo was subjected to a three-hour raid that killed at least 30 persons and wounded an undetermined number. At least fifteen houses were burned down.

Two hospitals were wrecked during the raids. One of these was a Finnish army field hospital near Viborg, which was destroyed in flames. Twenty-three persons were killed including 19 wounded Finnish soldiers, two women nurses and two internes.

The roof of the hospital was marked with a Red Cross but witnesses said the emblem may have been covered with snow. An official statement did not identify the second hospital attacked by the Russian fliers.

The fortified Finnish seaport of Hangoo also was raided and it was reported that some 50 persons were killed and nearly 200 injured there.

OUTGROWING WAR

DR. JULIAN HUXLEY, British evolutionary scientist now in this country, thinks there's some hope for the so-called human race in spite of appearances. "Outside of two or three species of ants," he admits, "man is the only form of life that engages in war. But it should be no more difficult to eradicate war than it has been to get rid of dueling."

He bases his hope on the fact that war isn't profitable any more. We seem to have arrived at a situation where it defeats its own ends. It costs so much to fight in the modern way, and the destruction is so great, that even a winner loses more than he gains.

Such reasoning sounds like good sense. But the danger is that sometimes the belligerents, when they have once started fighting, get so enraged at each other that they no longer count the cost. That's the danger now. If they really get mad clear through, nothing else matters.

PERMANENT RELIEF

IT would be just as well to take the word "emergency" out of many relief organization titles and out of general relief discussion. The "emergency phase" passed several years ago," says a welfare director. "In some volume the relief problem will be a permanent one."

That is not a welcome thought, but it needs to be faced. The treatment of emergencies should be different from the treatment of permanent conditions. Because the relief situation has continued to be regarded as an emergency there have been stop-gap remedies and little progress toward working out the wisest, most efficient means of handling it. Local, state and national governments have done a good deal of buck-passing in the matter and, with few exceptions, have failed to develop sound, effective properly dividing the work to be done and giving each government unit its rightful job and responsibility.

Everybody seems to be agreed that this is one of the first problems confronting us today, along with that of employment for youth. We agree pretty well, too, that solution of such problems is more important in the preservation of democracy than military power. Isn't it time, then, to take a long-range, wholly non-political view of the question and handle it with American common-sense?

Congratulations to the American magazines that are bragging because they are banned in Germany, Russia, Italy and Japan.

The Finns are fighting on skis, and news from Holland suggests that the Dutch may soon be fighting on skates.

Did really get angry when I saw in the prints that professional ball players making from $8,000 to $10,000 a year have applied for federal incomes under the job insurance provision of law. Such acts as that tend to make Reds. What would be your attitude if you were the head of the family, were willing to work and could not find a job, were having difficulty in providing food for your loved ones and then read in the paper about the government being forced to help finance the vacations of high salaried men of the ball player type? Maybe you would see a little pink, too. I think I would.

Charlie May dropped into the office bearing a $2 contribution to the Finnish relief fund and was closely followed by Bill Hamilton and a like donation. Tuesday the Chamber of Commerce will be asked to set up a local committee to handle the contributions intended to aid the Finns. Chillicothe already has sent in $1,500 and has promised more.

Soon you will be asked to buy a ticket to a testimonial dinner honoring C. F. Zaenglein of the high school, the man who directs the band in addition to his other duties and who is held in the very highest esteem both within and outside the school. I'll buy tickets with no back talk whatever and entirely without hesitation.

Chatted with Link Mader, who is one of the strongest boosters for the high school basketball team. Note to the editorial department: Check with Forrest Short on how he is getting along in his tilt with the federal government on taxes assessed against land in the farm reclamation projects. And obtain figures on how much more taxes independent farmers will have to pay if Forrest loses his fight, which he probably will. A lot of acres will be lifted from the tax duplicate and someone must make up that loss.

Elliot Henry is home from the hospital and out again three weeks after a major operation. Chatted with him at the hotel and found him cheerful and looking well along the road to recovery. Fred Wittich parked his automobile in the Elks alley and was tagged $2 by the city. Not feeling so good about it, either, for Elks have parked there for years without molestation.

BY DREW PEARSON AND ROBERT S. ALLEN,

BILL GREEN'S BIRTHDAY CAKE

WASHINGTON—It has already been published that AFL President Bill Green called upon Roosevelt last week to present a giant birthday cake (which had been crushed en route) plus infantile paralysis checks from AFL members.

What was not generally known was the fact that while Green and Roosevelt were talking, the President picked up two teletype reports which Steve Early had just placed upon his desk. They reported John L. Lewis' hot blast accusing Roosevelt of "not keeping faith" with labor.

"Bill," said Roosevelt, after glancing at the teletype sheets, "it's wonderful to be remembered this way by you and the A. F. of L. I'll be honored to accept the cake and the money the Federation is donating to my little crippled friends."

And then he added: "You don't know how much this means to me, coming at this particular time."

MRS. ROOSEVELT

It was a cold wintry day in Washington. There was a 9-inch snow on the ground and the streets were icy. A car stood waiting at the front entrance of the White House.

Mrs. Roosevelt emerged from the front door, dressed in a blue woolen suit, with brown fur about her neck. She glanced at the car, took a deep breath of the wintry air, waved the car away, and set out on foot.

She walked out of the White House grounds, waited for the lights to change, crossed Pennsylvania Avenue and proceeded alone along the slippery pavements to make a call, six blocks away.

The guards started after her. "You never can tell about her," said one to the other.

INSURANCE EXPLOSION

A spectacular explosion is brewing under the surface between the Monopoly Committee and moguls of the big insurance companies.

Infuriated by numerous embarrassing disclosures about their business practices already made by the committee, and others known to be in the works, the insurance tycoons have launched a hot undercover counter-attack. One company, the giant Metropolitan Life, even has gone to the extent of refusing to furnish the committee with information.

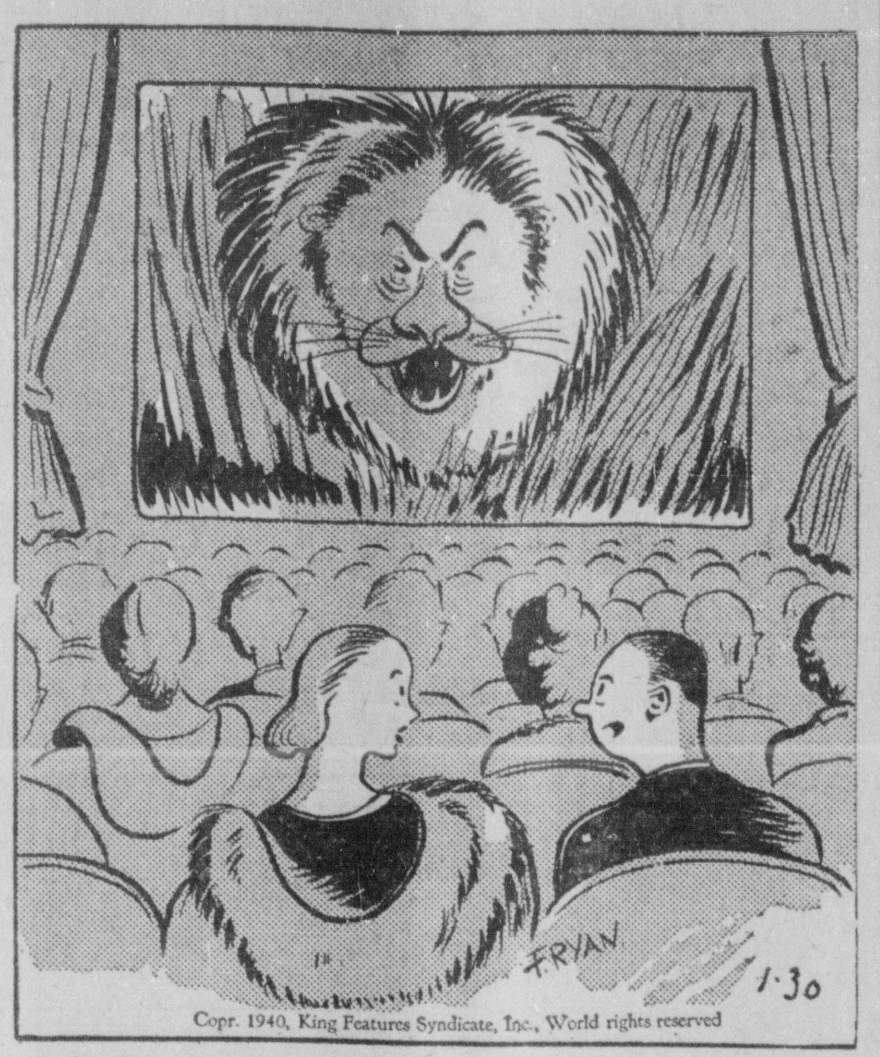

This defiance, which included disregard of a personal letter written by Senator O'Mahoney, soon will come to a showdown inside the committee. Unless the company yields, it will be subpoenaed; and the next step after that will be the courts.

Chief target of the insurance attack is an unpublished committee report, presenting a detailed and graphic series of comparisons of the rates, costs, profits and investment returns of all the important companies in the country. Any layman can turn to this report and in a few minutes get a clear picture of the financial standing and operations of the company in which he has a policy.

Some of the comparisons are devastating. One shows that a certain insurance company, with many millions of dollars on deposit in a bank, did not get a cent of interest on this huge sum. Officers of

Pneumonia Now Under Control

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

PNEUMONIA is under very good control today. This is due to the researches of the past few years. Two methods of treatment have been proved to be effective in pneumonia. One is the use of vaccines for the different strains; the other is the use of a drug, sulfa pyridine. There is no reason why both methods of treatment cannot be carried out.

Pneumonia is caused by a germ, the pneumococcus, which has many varieties. The proper serum must be selected to fit the exact variety which the patient has. This is now done rapidly by methods of typing known in all laboratories. Type III pneumococcus is resistant to any serum, but yields to sulfa pyridine.

All these procedures can be left in the hands of the attending physician.

Know Early Signs

What is important for the patient to know is that during this kind of weather, a sudden pain in the side, with or without a chill, with a feeling of great prostration and oppression in the chest, accompanied by fever, probably marks the onset of pneumonia. At least, the symptoms call for a consultation with your family doctor. Since early treatment leads to the best results, and since the doctor has effective early treatment, everyone should stay on the conservative side and call for medical consultation when even a suspicion exists.

Influenza, the other great dangerous respiratory disease, is, like the common cold, probably a virus disease. The virus has been cultivated in ferrets.

Influenza tends to visit the world in cycles of about 20 or 30 years apart, with a severe world-wide epidemic. Whether the mild epidemics of generalized infection called "influenza" in the intervening years, are really influenza, is doubtful.

Hope for Vaccine

If it is proved that the ferret virus is really the cause of influenza, we will have a way of checking up on clinical opinion. We may also hope that a vaccine which will be useful in prevention and treatment of influenza, will be perfected before the next great world-wide epidemic appears.

The best article I have seen on the subject of influenza in recent years is in a Chinese medical journal. They appear to have the real thing there yet, which is significant because influenza usually comes out of the East. It may be that the whole world will pay for the ambitions of Japan in disrupting the population of China and the hygienic control that the new China was beginning to exercise upon its people.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

G. S.: "Please send me a diet list for one who has ulcer of the stomach."

Answer—The best plan is a divided diet, small meals and often. Separate eating from drinking. Avoid the three S's—Sweet, Sour, Spice. Avoid candy, pastries, soggy foods of all kinds—puddings and soggy desserts. Avoid fried meats and fatty meats, such as fat fish. Cereals, such as rice and oatmeal, should be boiled three to four hours before eating. Never use white bread except the crust, or have it toasted. The best food for you is lean, tender meat broiled, such as the breast of lean, young chicken, steak, roast beef or lean fish and oysters. Cream vegetable soup, mashed potatoes, peas, beans, well-cooked cereals, eggs in any form and milk and cream. A glass of half milk and half cream taken with meals and in the middle of the morning, middle of the afternoon and before going to bed will give you a great deal of relief. This diet will be excellent for your bowels.

A. B.: "What is Addison's anemia?"

Answer: Thomas Addison, of Guy's Hospital, London, described the anemia that was afterwards called pernicious anemia. It is no longer pernicious because it can be cured with liver.

E. C.: "Is there any home treatment for pyorrhea? Will salt used on the toothbrush harden the gums?"

Answer: Pyorrhea of mild grade can be treated at home. The object should be to harden the edges of the gum by hard rotary brushing with a small, stiff brush. Salt is a good dentifrice and will harden the gums. If pyorrhea has got to the place where there is pus formation and tartar, it is advisable to seek expert treatment from a dentist.

THE CHARACTERS:

ROMANY HAILLE, who wants to be a radio star.
CHOLLY O'NEIL, her pal, who plays in a music store.
BRENT NELSON, successful young announcer, who falls in love with Romany.
DOVER HAYWORTH, wealthy scion, who is growing fond of Cholly.
MYRA NOYES, famous radio star, who thought she was in love with Brent.
TERRY O'Rourke, who has a weakness for liquor.
BAXTER TREE, a continuity writer without a job.

YESTERDAY: Terry, again intoxicated, disgraces himself, and Cholly vows she is through with him. She begins to see more of Dover Hayworth.

CHAPTER SIXTEEN

Romany was delighted when she saw the debs and the heirs to Chicago's greatest fortunes dancing or lounging around the deck of the Lorelei. But Cholly would have preferred not having to face the curiosity of Dover Hayworth's set. Dove took Cholly's hand, walking along the deck. She was in her little white sports suit, and it made her look more young and helpless than ever.

"I've been thinking about you, too much," Dover said very low. And Cholly smiled up at him a little sadly in spite of her effort to be gay.

Nelson and Romany walked ahead. Dove stopped, putting his hands on Cholly's shoulders. Something in her eyes told him of her unhappiness.

"Blue, Cholly?" He looked at her closely.

She nodded without speaking, lowering her eyes.

"Trouble?"

"Oh, a little."

Cholly was sorry Dover had discovered her heartache. But since he had, she was not going to try to make him think she was happy.

"Anything I can do, darling?"

Dover still held her by the shoulders.

"No," she shook her head. "It's just something that happened at the store today. Maybe I'll tell you about it some time."

Dover looked sympathetic.

"Is it money—because if it is, we'll soon fix that. Did you lose your job?"

"Oh, no," Cholly said quickly. "I couldn't let you help me even if it were. But it isn't."

"What's money?" Dove smiled down at her a little wistfully. "If you are worried about something like that, I could help you and never know the difference."

Cholly saw the multi-millionaire's son in a new light. She was understanding and friendly in his bronzed face. Bent over her, his hair had grown so light from the sun that he was a tow-head. Her heart warmed.

"You're sweet, Dove. Thanks. If I need a friend, I'll certainly let you know."

"I'd be very angry with you if you didn't," he said. "If there weren't so many people looking at us, I think I'd kiss those big blue, sad eyes."

Cholly flushed, looking down.

"We'd better find Romany and Brent, hadn't we?"

Dover took her hand again, leading her along the deck like a child.

"I forgot to tell you, this is a birthday party. I have reached the ripe old age of twenty-five today."

"Congratulations!" Cholly stopped, smiling. "If I'd have known, I'd have baked a cake."

"I'll bet you can, too," Dove laughed.

"Of course. I've been baking cakes all my life."

"Ask me up to dinner some time."

"I'd love to," Cholly smiled happily for the first time. "Aunt Cissie has a wonderful kitchen, and I do love to mess around pots and pans. Could you make it Sunday? Like we do on the farm?"

Dover nodded, his blue eyes dancing playfully.

"I can't. But I will. I'm supposed to have a date to go to the races on Saturday. I have reached the ripe old age of twenty-five today."

"Oh, you mustn't," Cholly began. But Dove stopped her.

"Don't be an Indian. I want to see if you can really cook."

By that time Dover's obviously serious conversation down the deck with Cholly had created considerable interest among the crowd. They wondered, too, who the beauty was with Brent Nelson. Brent had made a few introductions, but the name Romany Haille meant nothing to them.

One girl in particular guardedly watched Dover's attitude toward the little red-head. She was Natalie "Pee Wee" Tyler, Chicago's most publicized Gold Coast glamor girl. In so far as she was concerned, she and Dove were as good as married.

A temporary bar had been set up in a corner of the deck. Dove led Cholly to it.

"You must have some of my birthday champagne." He took a glass from a servant and handed it to her with a flourish. "It will chase those little blue devils. Always does for me."

"Do you get that way, too?" Cholly asked, sipping her champagne.

"Oh, lord!" Dove exclaimed. "Sometimes I get so fed up with all this much ado about nothing that I think if I fell in the lake I wouldn't even bother swimming."

"I imagine you do," Cholly said simply.

"Don't you think you'd like to play all the time?" Dove asked. "Most girls would."

"Oh, they just think they would," Cholly denied. "But they'd get fed up with your much ado about nothing, too."

"Most rich women look as though they were in a hurry to rush through their lives and get them over with."

Pee Wee Tyler could stand it no longer. She appeared at Dover's elbow before he could answer Cholly. Taking his arm she laughed lightly.

"Dove, you're neglecting me horribly. Who's the new red-head?"

Dove introduced them. Pee Wee's languid eyes looked Cholly over with lazy insolence.

"Have we seen you before?" she asked them.

Cholly said she doubted it, forcing herself to be as casual as Natalie.

The group around the bar had directed their attention to the two girls and the Hayworth heir, and from nearby several couples arose with an effort to appear nonchalant and joined them. Romany and Brent, noting the interest, walked over to the bar.

Cholly's answer did not satisfy the now doubly curious Pee Wee, who was never very diplomatic when she had consumed a few glasses of champagne. She said, smiling and showing little short, even teeth:

"Who is this mystery woman, Dove? I don't like mystery rivals. Specially when they're red headed."

Red-heads are dangerous."

Romany saw Cholly look up from her champagne, and a quick light of resentment came into her eyes. She knew the warning signal. When anyone referred to Cholly's red hair in that way, it usually meant that she would lose her temper. If Romany had been close enough, she would have given her a poke in the ribs.

Dove, feeling Cholly's embarrassment, put an arm around her.

"This," he smiled down at her, "is my little honey. Have another drink, Pee Wee."

But Natalie was not in the mood to be wheedled. With another glass of champagne in her hand, she persisted doggedly:

"But who ARE you, my dear? You must be SOMEBODY, or you wouldn't be here."

"If you mean what I think you mean," Cholly measured Pee Wee with stormy blue eyes, "the answer is I'm NOBODY. Really."

There was a little titter from the crowd. Pee Wee put on her grandest manner.

"But you must be SOMEBODY, darling, or Dove wouldn't have asked you to his birthday party with us."

Dove would have broken in again, but he had a feeling Cholly could handle her own battles. By that time you could have heard a pin drop. Looking at Cholly, Romany's heart sank. She had grown white and her chin lifted defiantly.

"No," she denied. "I'm really NOBODY. My home is on a little farm in Indiana, and I've seven brothers and sisters. I'm a working girl. I play the piano in a music store on Randolph street to earn my living. Anything else you'd like to know, Miss Tyler?"

There was a shout of laughter from the crowd. Pee Wee giggled uncomfortably because she wasn't sure whether she was being made a fool of or not.

"You're so FUNNY," she said then.

Cholly's temperature was rising fast.

"I'm glad I amuse you, Miss Tyler." Her eyes danced furiously. "But I find you a very unusual specimen, too. You look as though you could use a few pints of good red Irish blood to mix with the ink in yours. Any time you think you'd like a transfusion, the O'Neils are at your service."

Brent joined in the applause that followed, but Romany was heart-sick that Cholly had given away her humble ancestry. Dove stood looking down at Cholly a moment in confusion. Then he grinned and, lifting her chin, planted a resounding kiss on her little red mouth.

"Just for the record," he said so that everyone could hear him, "Specially when they're red headed."

STARS SAY—

For Tuesday, January 30

THE GENERAL trend of events on this day, according to interesting lunar and mutual aspects, will be along progressive and constructive lines. The mental and creative faculties will be highly stimulated and directed into new grooves of expression, possibly in the way of experimentation or explorations in invention, science, art or literature. However, there may be obstacles and delays to challenge the resources. Try compromise and finesse in handling such opposition.

Those whose birthday it is may expect a year of much progress and productive activity. Activity may be in fresh fields of endeavor, possibly in literary, inventive, scientific artistic or mechanical lines of construction. Definite headway is likely, despite several forms of opposition, obstruction, postponements or setbacks. These may be handled with diplomacy or connivance.

A child born on this day may be studious, diligent and steady, perhaps talented in creative lines. It may have artistic ability seeking novel expressions.

WALNUT-TWP. SCHOOL NEWS

F. F. A. Meetings

The Walnut F. F. A. held its monthly meeting Wednesday, January 24. The following discussions were carried out through the meeting: (1) That there is to be a Minstrel held at Walnut Township school in February, (2) There is to be a sliding party Sunday night January 28, (3) Elected delegates to farmer's week; Charles McCray, Phil Lannan, and Eugene Reed.

Biology

The biology class has studied in the last few weeks arthropods, moths, butterflies, and we are now studying fish.

Institute

Several of the students from Walnut High took part in the Amateur Contest at Ashville Thursday night. Donna Dill played with Paul Bowers and Co. in the double, double piano number which won first prize.

Helen Dennis was in the money with her Accordion number. She was awarded 5th prize.

Charles McCray with his character monologue, won third and contributed much to the fun of the program with his number. No one recognized him when he appeared after the announcement of the winners.

Sara Jane Hedges won second prize for the Junior with her reading "The Moo Cow Moo".

News About School

The ladies class in Adult Education will meet Monday evening at 8:00. All ladies of the Community are cordially invited to attend these meetings. The topic for discussion will be "Home Furnishings and Decorations". Miss Rhodes will have charge of the class.

News in the Grades

The igloo in the second grade is nearing completion and much interest has been created by its construction. Whenever pupils are missing now, Miss Boggs will probably look first in the igloo.

The farm project in the first grade is very attractive and the children have been making up stories about the farm. Miss Kerr writes the stories for them and they read them from the manuscripts.

Sports

Next week our basketball teams play Deercreek Township teams here on Friday night. We want to honor former letter men and women of our school on that evening.

A special place will be reserved for this group and we hope that all who read this bulletin will pass the word along and try to get as many to come as will. This will give you an opportunity to see your old teammates. The girls game will start at 7:30.

What About Detention?

Students Comment.
"Detention for purpose of making up work is certainly a good thing, and a privilege for the student. As regards to punishment I think detention is justified for those who commit disorders in class and study hall. If a student was to waste his own time and that of others he surely should have to do something to make up for it."

YOUR CHILD'S coughing at night—caused by throat "tickles" or irritation, mouth breathing, or a cold—can often be prevented by rubbing the throat and chest with plenty of Vicks VapoRub at bedtime.

VAPORUB'S SWIFT poultice-and-vapor action loosens phlegm, relieves irritation, clears air passages, tends to stop mouth breathing, and invites healing, restful sleep. Try it.

GRISSOM SIGNS YANK CONTRACT; SUNDRA ON, TOO

NEW YORK, Jan. 30—Ed Barrow eased his huge bulk into the room just in time to hear someone say that his Yanks already are 3 to 1 favorites to annex their fifth straight American League pennant this year.

"Three to one?" mused Ed, carefully stroking the bushiest eyebrows in or out of captivity. "Those odds seem a little out of line on a club that hasn't yet hit training camp. But here are two fellows, who've just signed their contracts, who may make those odds stand up—Steve Sundra and Lee Grissom."

Grissom was the southpaw acquired from the Reds in a recent deal for Joe Beggs. He looked good against the Yanks in his brief World Series appearance and everybody from Barrow to Joe McCarthy to the Yankee bat boy think he'll be a big winner with the champions.

Sundra is the young fellow who won eleven straight before bowing to the Red Sox on the final day of the season and whose 2.75 earned run average made him second only to Lefty Grove in effectiveness.

WOLVES GO WEST

ANN ARBOR, Mich., Jan. 30—The University of Michigan student body gleefully accepted the selection of the University of California as a football opponent to fill the gap in the schedule caused when Chicago abandoned football. The game will be played September 28 at Berkeley, Cal., and thus leaves the Wolverines with only four home games for the first time since 1937.

GUS SUHR DISPLEASED

MILLBRAE, Cal., Jan. 30—Joining the growing list of professional baseball players hoping for greater incomes in 1940, Gus Suhr, veteran big league first baseman, said today he returned his contract to the Philadelphia Nationals unsigned.

Mack's Cash And 'Play Every Day' Wins McCoy

GRANDVILLE, Mich., Jan. 30—Benny McCoy today had a two-year contract with the Philadelphia Athletics, a check for $45,000 and one of the widest grins in history.

Climaxing one of the most hectic auction sales in baseball history, McCoy, the Detroit Tiger utility infielder declared a free agent by Judge K. M. Landis, received the $45,000—an all-time record—as a bonus for signing the Athletic contract late yesterday afternoon.

About This And That In Many Sports

City Basketball League games this week include: John Deere Tractors vs. Glitt's Food Market, Caskey Cleaners vs. Stout's Pure Oils, Purina Chows vs. Western Auto Supply, and Eshelman Feeds vs. Wallace's Bakery. . . . The evening is being tagged as Wallace Bakery Night. . . . First game is 7 o'clock, and a good crowd should be on hand. . . .

County cage games booked for Friday evening bring Pickaway's Pirates against the scrapping Scioto Township boys on the Commercial Point Court as the highlight. . . . And Scioto's Wayne Beavers, out of action for two weeks with an ouchy ankle, will be in the harness. . . . Scioto is the last remaining threat in the path of Carl Burger's unbeaten boys. . . . Other games will include Williamsport at Walnut, Salt Creek at Perry, Ashville at Jackson and Washington at Monroe. . . .

There will not be a basketball game between Circleville and Pickaway Township this year for anybody's benefit. . . . Pickaway has a clean record: Circleville hasn't. . . . Pickaway is reluctant to take a chance on breaking that record and there isn't a soul can blame the officials of that school if they should turn down a bid, which they have not yet had the opportunity to do. . . . It's to be recalled, too, that Pickaway has tried for several years to book contests with the Red and Black only to be turned down for various reasons, one of which being that the Pirates have been rather powerful. . . . Why can't a game be arranged with Chillicothe on the local court during a week prior to the tournament with all proceeds above expenses going to the Band Uniform Fund? . . . How's about a try? . . .

Here's an answer to a query: Circleville High reserves have won 10 out of 14 games played and have scored 434 points against 239, an average of 31 points a game against their opponents' average of 17.1 points per game. . . . Teams holding edges over the Tiger seconds are Greenfield 25-22, Lancaster 25-23; Wilmington 35-18, and Upper Arlington 28-18. . . .

High school varsity and reserve teams travel to Wilmington Friday evening for an evening of South Central Ohio League competition. . . . Coach Roy Black gave his boys a rest Monday evening with no practice ordered. . . . The varsity has played five games in two weeks and the reserves have taken on six opponents, just about too much for boys who were preparing semester examinations at the same time. . . .

Chicago DePaul to show them, but today other Ohio basketballs were finally convinced that Toledo U. can be beaten.

TONY ZALE, GARY PUG, IN VICTORY OVER AL HOSTAK

CHICAGO, Jan. 30 — A new and dangerous challenger for the middleweight championship loomed on the flat horizon today.

He was 26-year-old Tony Zale of Gary, Ind., who last night won an unanimous decision over Al Hostak, NBA middleweight titleholder, in a ten round, non-title bout in Chicago Stadium.

The loss was costly to Hostak in several respects. He injured his left hand in the furious fifth round, and at the same time saw his hopes of a fight with light Heavyweight Champion Billy Conn washed away, at least for the time being.

As a result of his popular, upset victory—Hostak was a pre-fight favorite at better than 4 to 1 odds—Zale will be given another fight with Hostak within 90 days.

GORDON ASKS MORE
EUGENE, Ore., Jan. 30—Convinced he has nothing to lose, Joe Gordon, New York Yankee second baseman, said he would write today to Manager Ed Barrow requesting a substantial increase in the salary figure contained in a proffered 1940 contract. "But I'm not holding out," Gordon hastened to declare.

SISLER ELECTED

CHICAGO, Jan. 30—George H. Sisler, former star first baseman of the St. Louis Browns, was re-elected high commissioner of the national semi-pro baseball congress, it was announced today at the final session of the congress directors.

Benny McCoy today had a two-year contract with the Philadelphia Athletics, a check for $45,000 and one of the widest grins in history.

Besides the bonus, the 23-year-old ball player will get $10,000 a year and a regular spot in the Quaker City lineup.

Ten clubs—five in each league—entered in the spirited bidding for McCoy.

One by one, the Chicago White Sox, Boston Red Sox, Boston Bees, Cleveland Indians, Washington Senators, New York Giants and Pittsburgh Pirates, dropped out of the running as McCoy's price went higher and higher.

This left the Cincinnati Red's offer of $40,000 and a one-year contract, Brooklyn Dodger Manager Larry MacPhail's declaration that "I'll top anybody," and Earl Mack—son of veteran Philadelphia Manager Connie Mack in the field.

Mack laid a $45,000 check on the line along with the contract and a promise:

"You'll play every day." Benny signed.

"This is the chance I've been waiting for," he said.

TOLEDO CAGERS LOSE TWO-POINT TILT TO DEPAUL

COLUMBUS, Jan. 30—It took Chicago DePaul to show them, but today other Ohio basketballs were finally convinced that Toledo U. can be beaten.

The Maumee city boys took their 17-won-2-lost record to Chicago only to see a third game added to the wrong side of the ledger. When the fireworks ended, DePaul was on the long end of a 37-35 score.

The only other game saw Findlay run up a 49-43 victory over Bluffton.

days at Seattle, with a $10,000 purse and the title at stake.

Until the fifth round, last night's battle was fiercely fought with Zale mostly on the receiving end of the give and take. From the fifth on, however, the champion favored his injured left hand and suffered thereby.

BIG TEN LISTS AIDS PROVIDED FOR ATHLETES

Outright Athletic Grants Outlawed By Conference, Griffith Says

CHICAGO, Jan. 30 — To clear up "misconceptions" regarding "the nature and propriety of financial aid to athletes," the Big Ten today made public a list of such aids available to students at Western Conference schools.

Accompanying the list was an explanatory statement by Western Conference Commissioner Maj. John L. Griffin who, after pointing out that conference rules state specifically that "athletics within the conference are to be conducted on a non-paid-player basis," said:

"The university or the athletic department (in the conference) may employ an athlete providing he is paid for services actually rendered and the rate of pay corresponds to that afforded non-athletes.

"In other words, the basic principle of the conference is that the athlete is entitled to every consideration which might be accorded a non-athlete by the university, but nothing further."

DISTRICT REPUBLICANS INDORSE DELEGATES TO NATIONAL CONVENTION

TOM A. RENICK APPROVED FOR COMMITTEE JOB

Pickaway County Chairman To Succeed John Phillips Of Chillicothe

MEETING IN LANCASTER

Congressional Race Talked, But No Candidates Are Promised Support

Republicans of the 11th Congressional district Tuesday were making preparations to play their part in the approaching national convention and in the campaign that will soon start following indorsement of delegates and alternates to the convention. A meeting in Lancaster during the week-end resulted in the indorsements.

Charles H. Drinkle, Lancaster attorney, and Mrs. L. E. Hoyt of Chillicothe will be the district's delegates with J. F. Furniss, Lancaster insurance broker, and Karl Brown of Roseville, Perry County, to be alternates. The district, which includes Pickaway, Ross, Fairfield, Perry and Hocking Counties, is entitled to two delegates and two alternates all of whom are pledged to support Senator Robert A. Taft of Cincinnati for the presidential nomination. Taft, junior senator from Ohio, is carrying his state's "favorite son" toga to the convention wherever it may be.

Chairmen and secretaries of the party's central and executive committees attended the meeting.

Tom A. Renick, chairman of the Pickaway County executive committee, was indorsed for the important position of state committeeman and chairman of the district committee to succeed Attorney John Phillips of Chillicothe, who is ill.

Mrs. Lottie Randolph of New Lexington was indorsed for the third time for state central committeewoman. Mrs. Randolph, who is now assistant state director of agriculture, presided at the district meeting in the absence of Committeeman Phillips who was too ill to attend.

The committee took no action on indorsement for any congressional positions. So far as is known there are no Republicans actively in the race although Mayor Harold Brown of Chillicothe has indicated that he will run for the nomination. The congressional race was discussed, however.

WHEEL OFF CRITES CAR HITS LANCASTER HOME

LANCASTER, Jan. 30—A rolling wheel gathered no moss, but did plenty of damage. The wheel jumped off the truck that Elliot E. Crites, South Bloomfield, was driving in Main Street. Hopping off the axle, it made straight for the home of Wenzel Helwig where it knocked plaster off the living room walls. Then from 812, the number of Wenzel's home, it careened over to 508 and hit a downspout. Crites finally retrieved it.

WILMINGTON MAN SUFFERS SERIOUS BLOOD AILMENT

WILMINGTON, Jan. 30—Blood for Frank Otterman was offered by more than 20 members of the Wilmington Lions Club and Elks Lodge who motored to Xenia's McClellan Hospital where Otterman is ill with a serious blood disease. Specialists issued a call for more donors Tuesday after two blood transfusions were administered Sunday. Otterman is vice president of the Lions Club and co-owner of the Clinton County Construction Company.

this company were also directors of the bank. Other comparisons reveal astounding variations in rates charged for the same kind of policy.

The committee sent copies of the report to the companies "for correction of any errors". That was weeks ago. Meanwhile they have sent back no corrections but have exerted tremendous undercover pressure to have the report suppressed.

In addition, they have launched a double-barreled attack on the committee. One assault is being directed by James Madden, former U. S. Chamber of Commerce official, and is financed by some of the largest national companies. The other attack, managed by C. B. Robbins, is backed by the American Life Convention, an organization of 140 smaller companies.

Both have large staffs and both are sending out floods of materials and complaints to members of Congress, insurance agents, policy holders and others. One staff occupies half a floor of a leading New York hotel, and among its high-priced experts is a prominent Washington publicity agent and lobbyist.

BRAZILIAN ANTS

Charming Mrs. Arthur Krock, wife of The New York Times correspondent and herself a writer under the name "Martha Blair", has been having trouble with Brazilian ants.

Despite every conceivable effort to get rid of them, the ants have continued to infest her house. Finally, Mrs. Krock discovered that they came from a nearby bakery, and she asked the baker to close his shop long enough to fumigate. The baker, however, demurred that his customers depended upon

MANY QUESTIONS SET UP DURING AAA INSTITUTE

A series of pertinent questions relating to the farming situation of today and tomorrow will be discussed and answers attempted at the Farmers' Institute to be held in Memorial Hall Circleville, Wednesday, February 7.

Why is the corn allotment reduced over 1939? What effect will the war in Europe have on American agriculture? Is the present farm program flexible enough to meet the farm situation as it is today? Do farm prices today justify acreage adjustment as outlined under the 1940 Program? These are the questions that Farmers' Institute will try to solve.

E. E. Puree, Paulding County, director of corn and wheat loans in Ohio, and Harry A. Donahoe, Clinton County, district AAA field man, will be the guest speakers. Donahoe will speak on "1940 Farm Program", and "Is There A Farm Problem?" Puree will address the assembly on "Crop Insurance" and "Crop Loans". The agricultural outlook will be discussed by F. K. Blair, Pickaway County agent.

his daily output of bread, and if he closed down for two or three days, he would lose business.

So Mrs. Krock discussed her entomological predicament with her friend Evie Robert, wife of the Secretary of the Democratic National Committee, who in turn called up her friend, George Allen, Commissioner of the District of Columbia.

"George," said Evie, "can't you get the health authorities to fumigate the bakery? Martha just has to get rid of those Brazilian ants. They're driving her out of house and home."

"Brazilian ants?" replied Commissioner Allen. "Well, ordinarily we'd be glad to drive out Martha's Brazilian ants. But these days we have to be awfully careful about the Good Neighbor policy."

JOHN L. LEWIS TACTICS

John L. Lewis' abandonment of secret plan to have the United Mine Workers endorse Senator Bert Wheeler for President was not voluntary.

Strong dissent developed from two quarters. A number of mine leaders objected strenuously, and some of the biggest guns in the CIO served notice that they intended to stick by Roosevelt regardless of anything Lewis did.

Faced with the prospect of a serious split, Lewis dropped his scheme. But in doing so he took a parting shot at Roosevelt backers with his surprise no-third-term bombshell.

Lewis apparently didn't read the miner's report to the convention before it was published, because in one paragraph it scathingly denounced the "reactionary cabal" that defeated the New Deal spend-lend bill last summer. One of the leading opponents of this measure was none other than Burton K. Wheeler, who sponsored the

PETTENGILL "The Gentleman from Indiana"

THE INTELLIGENTIA

THE intellectuals have gone sterile. The pen pushers and their fellow travelers in the lecture field and in the book review business have lost touch.

There are many signs that this is so but one proves it particularly. It is the attitude of the intelligentsia toward the Dies Committee. How they tried to laugh it to scorn! "Shirley Temple a Communist!" Imagine! There was not a word of testimony before the Committee

PETTENGILL. That fact no one has denied.

But the truth was not important to those who write with pink ink. The Committee had to face the h-h-a's, but it did not wilt. Gradually, here and there, people—not the intellectuals—began to say, "This man Dies is getting the lowdown. Better listen." The average American came to the conclusion that this Committee may have made more errors than any Congressional body since Hector was a young dog, but that it had also made more home runs.

This attitude of the rank and file American became known to his Congressman. In the face of insults from the intelligentsia of Union Square and Greenwich Village, the Little Red House in Georgetown, D. C., and disparaging remarks of cabinet rank, the Congressmen voted last February ten to one to continue the Dies Committee. And this year, the House voted more than sixteen to one for continuance.

Meantime the Gallup Poll indicates that the people themselves are heavily in favor of the Committee. But not the pen pushers. They are still faithful to their ink. In a separate poll of 200 of the "leading" writers and intellectuals amendment that deleted one of the principal provisions of the bill, a $500,000,000 fund for the financing of new rail equipment.

FEDERAL RESERVE HEAD

Earnest little Magriner S. Eccles will continue as chairman of the Federal Reserve Board when his term expires February 1, but without a new appointment. This is at his own request.

Under the law, the chairman can continue in office until his successor is named. A new appointment would be for four years and Eccles could continue until 1944. But he is opposed to this, believing that every President should have the right to name his own Reserve Board head, and a new President will be elected this year.

This was the intent of the law when the chairman's term was fixed at four years, but through a boner in Congress the timing was not geared to Eccles' tenure of office.
